

Engage Students in Their Learning

DESIGNING LEARNER-CENTERED ENVIRONMENTS THAT PROMOTE STUDENT ENGAGEMENT & MOTIVATION

Do you often think of what to do to get kids who are disinterested and not engaged in the classroom? What if we can motivate our students to become their own self-learners? Life-long learners?

Models that promote Student Engagement & Motivation help educators maximize success for every student. Experience an engaging, inspiring, energizing, and motivating experience that will improve teacher job satisfaction through research-based, and results-driven strategies. Leave with practical techniques you can use immediately.

Learn Strategies that will help to:

- Encourage positive feelings
- Promote self-efficacy
- Maintain attention and interest in the classroom
- Improve connectedness and relevancy with concepts
- Share best practices so the whole team can reach the students in your school with maximum effectiveness

From the work of Dr. Rick Lavoie:

- Strategies that Don't Work, and those that Do
- Getting the Child's Input on His Motivational Forces

PME Educational Consulting
(786-972-0498)
pme.edconsulting@gmail.com
www.pmeeducation.com
